

The cover art features a young girl with long, dark brown hair tied in a high ponytail, wearing a white dress with green accents. She is holding a large, white, winged creature (likely a dragon or a spirit) close to her face. The background is a vibrant blue and green, suggesting an underwater or ethereal environment, with many small, glowing bubbles or spirits floating around. The overall style is highly detailed and colorful, characteristic of Studio Ghibli's art.
